DATA MANAGEMENT “MEET AND LEARN”

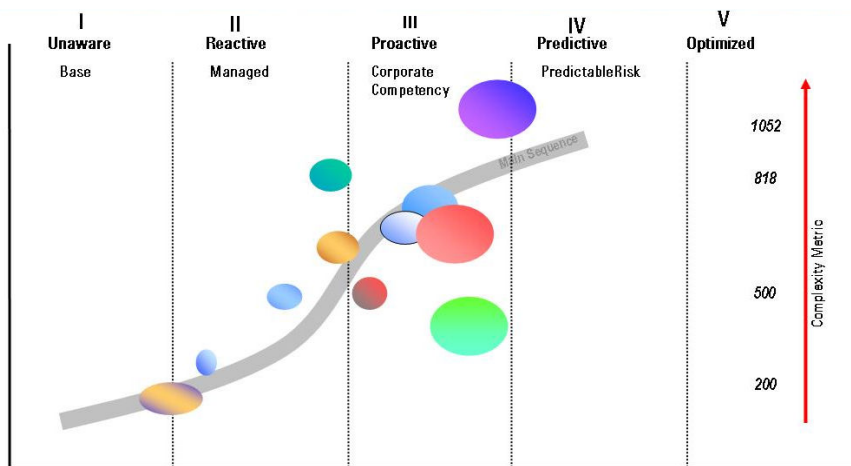

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 29 4:30 – 7:30 PM – OZONA GRILL & BAR

4615 GREENVILLE AVE., DALLAS, TX 75206

CLTC is hosting a brief round table on data management strategies. How will your possible involvement in the coming round of mergers, acquisitions, and consolidations be impacted by your ability to find and leverage your geotechnical data? Come and hear how your company can best address the data management challenges brought on by lower commodity prices and leaner staffing levels, then stay and network with your peers and friends. This very informal format will accommodate your busy schedule.

4:30 – 5:00 Registration and networking

5:00 – 5:15 CLTC Presentation – “How mature is your organization’s approach to data management?”

5:15 – 5:30 Round Table Exercise – Determine your company’s Maturity Level

5:30 – 7:30 Social event

The roundtable is facilitated by Jess Kozman, a global expert in oil and gas technology, data management, and information technology. You will leave this event with a first determination of your company’s maturity level and how it can improve.

Registration: $28.00 in advance, price at the door will be the posted closing price of one barrel of WTI (feel lucky?). Free admission to anyone guessing in advance an oil and gas merger or acquisition announced in the Dallas Morning News on the day of the event. RSVP to cltcweb@cltechconsulting.com.
